

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

RESULTS OF SPIRIT LEVELING IN ALABAMA, GEORGIA, NORTH CAROLINA, SOUTH CAROLINA, AND TENNESSEE, 1896 TO 1909, INCLUSIVE.

R. B. MARSHALL, Chief Geographer.

INTRODUCTION.

Scope of the work.—All results of spirit leveling in these States previously published by the United States Geological Survey and of later work are included in this report, rearranged by quadrangles.

The lists herein given are based on the precise-level net as adjusted in 1903 by the Coast and Geodetic Survey upon a common mean sea-level datum. The net of precise levels which cross this group of States comprises the following lines run by the United States Geological Survey: (1) From Morehead, N. C., via Durham, Greensboro, and Newton, N. C.; Knoxville and Cleveland, Tenn., and Macon, Ga., to Brunswick, Ga.; (2) from Durham, N. C., to Clarksville, Va.; (3) from Greensboro, N. C., to Charleston, W. Va.; (4) from Newton, N. C., to Columbia, S. C.; (5) from Cleveland to Chattanooga, Tenn.; (6) from Stevenson, Ala., to Nashville, Tenn.; (7) from Nashville to Prater, Tenn.; (8) from Macon to Milledgeville, Ga.; (9) from Memphis, Tenn., to Tutwiler, Miss.; and (10) from Memphis to Buntyn, Tenn. This precise-level net also comprises the following lines by the Coast and Geodetic Survey: (1) From Cincinnati, Ohio, via Harriman Junction and Chattanooga, Tenn., to Decatur, Ala.; (2) from Harriman Junction to Knoxville, Tenn.; (3) from Birmingham to Decatur, Ala.; (4) from Decatur, Ala., to Corinth, Miss.; (5) from Corinth, Miss., to Memphis, Tenn.; and (6) from Corinth, Miss., to Cairo, Ill. The following lines by the United States Engineer Corps are also included: (1) From Meridian, Miss., to Birmingham, Ala.; (2) from York to Demopolis, Ala.; (3) from Decatur to Tusculumbia, Ala.; (4) from Riverton Junction, Ala., to Pittsburg Landing, Tenn.; and (5) the Mississippi River Commission line along the Mississippi.

Cooperation and personnel.—The leveling in Alabama was done in cooperation with the State during the years 1899 to 1905, inclusive; that in North Carolina was done in cooperation with that State during 1896 and from 1902 to 1909, inclusive. The leveling in Georgia, South Carolina, and Tennessee was not done in cooperation with the States.

The field work during 1896 to 1906, inclusive, was done under the direction of H. M. Wilson, geographer, and during 1907 to 1909, inclusive, under Frank Sutton, geographer. The work since January, 1908, was done under the general direction of R. B. Marshall, chief geographer. Credit is given in the heading of each list to the different levelmen.

The office work of computation and compilation of results was done by D. H. Baldwin, topographer, under the immediate supervision of S. S. Gannett, geographer, and since 1907 under the general direction of E. M. Douglas, geographer.

Classification.—The lists are separated into two classes, precise and primary, distinguishing the degree of refinement in the method of leveling employed. Under precise leveling are included either lines run in both forward and backward directions or simultaneous double-rodged lines, a high-grade level and rated rods being used and special precautions being taken in observation and reduction to correct errors and make the results continuously good. Under primary leveling are included lines run mostly single with the Y level, precautions being taken against only the principal sources of error, and depending upon the closure of circuits for a check. The allowable limit of error observed on the double-simultaneous precise lines run by the Geological Survey is represented in feet by the formula $0.04\sqrt{D}$, and on the other precise lines run by the forward and backward method by the formula $0.017\sqrt{D}$, in which D is the distance between bench marks in miles. The limit in feet on primary work is represented in feet by the formula $0.05\sqrt{D}$, in which D is the length of circuit in miles.

Bench marks.—The bench marks, the locations of which are given in the following lists, are mainly of three general forms: First, a circular bronze or aluminum tablet $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter and one-fourth inch thick, appropriately lettered, having a 3-inch stem cemented in a drill hole, generally in the vertical wall of a public building, a bridge abutment, or other substantial masonry structure. The second form, employed where masonry or rock is not accessible, consists of a hollow wrought-iron post $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches in outer diameter and 4 feet in length, split at the bottom and expanded to 10 inches at base, so as to prevent both the easy subsidence of the post and the malicious pulling of it out of the ground. These posts are generally sunk 3 feet in the ground; the iron is heavily coated with asphalt, and over the top of the post is riveted a bronze tablet similar to that described above. The third form consists of a copper bolt 1 inch in diameter and 4 inches long, which is split at one end and expanded by driving on a brass wedge in a drill hole in masonry. But few bench marks of the third class have been used in these States, and their use has now been discontinued.

The numbers stamped on the bench marks represent the elevations to the nearest foot above mean sea level, as determined by unadjusted levels in the field. The notes have since been subjected to changes resulting from the adjustments necessary to close circuits and to reduce to mean sea level through connection with or readjustment of the precise-level net of the United States. Some of the elevations as finally accepted and printed herein therefore differ from those submitted as bench-mark numbers by 1 or 2 feet. This method of numbering bench marks, rather than any attempt at serial numbering, has been adopted where many levelmen are working in a given area at the same time as less liable to lead to confusion in identification of bench marks, and because by this method the bench-mark number also affords an approximate statement of the elevation. It is assumed that engineers and others finding these bench marks so stamped in the field will communicate with the Director of the United States Geological Survey in order to obtain the accepted elevation to hundredths or thousandths of a foot. Bench marks established under cooperation with a State are stamped with the state name.

Any person finding bench marks in the following lists mutilated or destroyed will confer a favor by notifying the Director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

PRECISE LEVELING.

Stevenson quadrangle.

JACKSON COUNTY.

The elevations in the following list are a portion of the results of precise levels extended from Chattanooga to Nashville, Tenn. The section from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Stevenson, Ala., of this line was recovered by the Coast and Geodetic Survey precise levels, the adjustment of which has caused the original elevations by this line at Stevenson to be raised 0.157 foot with respect to Chattanooga. The remainder of the line to Nashville is a spur. The simultaneous double-rodming method was used. The elevations accord with the 1903 adjustment. The leveling was done in 1899 by W. W. Gilbert.

Dadeville, Opelika, Talladega, and Wetumpka quadrangles.

AUTAUGA, CHAMBERS, CLAY, CHILTON, COOSA, ELMORE, LEE, MACON, TALLAPOOSA, AND TALLADEGA COUNTIES.

The elevations in the following list, except one at Wilsonville, were determined by extensions from Rome, a point on the precise-level net, through leveling on adjoining quadrangles. Closures were obtained on bench marks at Lagrange and West Point, Ga., and near Smiths Station, Ala., of approximately +2, +0, and +3 feet, respectively, by a level net extended from Macon and McDonough, Ga., which discrepancies can not be rectified until further field work is done. The elevation at Wilsonville was determined from Birmingham.

The leveling was done as follows: In Talladega quadrangle in 1900 by N. P. Curtis and at Wilsonville in 1907 by A. D. Cameron; in Wetumpka quadrangle in 1900 by R. E. Wipfler and in 1901 by J. F. Webb; in Dadeville quadrangle in 1901 by R. E. Wipfler and in 1902 by H. V. Rees; in Opelika quadrangle in 1902 by H. V. Rees and in 1903 by W. G. Goodwin, jr.

The remainder of the line to Nashville is a spur. The simultaneous double-rodming method was used. The leveling was done in 1899 by W. W. Gilbert.

The total divergence between direct and reverse lines was 0.023 foot in a total distance of 39 miles. The methods of leveling, type of level, and limit of error are those now used by the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The party consisted of 5 persons—2 rodmen, 1 umbrella man, 1 recorder, and the levelman, C. H. Semper.

Rome and Wedowee quadrangles.

CARROLL, CHATTOOGA, FLOYD, HEARD, POLK, AND TROUP COUNTIES.

The elevations in the following list were determined by extension from a bench mark at Rome recovered by the precise-level line from Morehead City, N. C., to Brunswick, Ga. A connection was obtained at Lagrange in Wedowee quadrangle with levels extended from McDonough and Macon, but the excessive error was allowed to stand because there was not sufficient data to effect a reliable readjustment.

The leveling in Rome quadrangle was done in 1896 by J. A. McDonough; in Wedowee quadrangle in 1899 by W. S. D. Moore. The standard bench marks set in 1896 in Rome quadrangle, based on a railroad elevation at Rome, are stamped with figures of elevation mostly 15 feet too high.

NORTH CAROLINA.

PRECISE LEVELING.

Asheville, Beaufort, Cary, Clayton, Durham, Garner, Goldsboro, Graham, Greensboro, Hickory, High Point, Hillsboro, Kenly, Lexington, McLeansville, Morganton, Mount Mitchell, Newbern, Newport, Newton, Princeton, Raleigh, Salisbury, Snow Hill, Statesville, and Trent River quadrangles.

ALAMANCE, BUNCOMBE, BURKE, CARTERET, CATAWBA, CRAVEN, DAVIDSON, DURHAM, GUILFORD, IREDELL, JOHNSTON, JONES, LENOIR, McDOWELL, MADISON, ORANGE, ROWAN, WAKE, AND WAYNE COUNTIES.

The elevations in the following list are a portion of the results of a line of precise leveling begun in 1896 at Morehead City, N. C., and carried westward along the Norfolk and Southern and the Southern railways to Knoxville and Cleveland, Tenn., and to Brunswick, Ga. At Morehead City tide-gage readings were made during six lunar months in 1898 through the courtesy of the Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey. At Brunswick, Ga., tide-gage readings were made at St. Simons light at various times between 1854 and 1898 by the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and the elevations of several bench marks at Brunswick were determined from them through precise leveling by the United States Engineer Corps.

In 1899 E. L. McNair connected this line with the tide gage at Morehead City and with four tidal bench marks at Brunswick, Ga., one of which was discarded, and the mean closure error of this great circuit of 1,043.2 miles at Brunswick was -1.057 feet. Cleveland and Knoxville are junction points with other links of the precise-level net, and the adjustment made by the Coast and Geodetic Survey in 1903 corrects the original results with respect to Morehead City as follows: Paint Rock, N. C., -0.351 ; Knoxville, Tenn., -0.452 ; Cleveland, Tenn., -0.189 ; Cohutta, Ga., -0.145 ; and Brunswick, Ga., $+1.057$. No adjustment was put between Morehead City and Selma because of the small divergence and flat country

That portion of the entire line included in North Carolina was done in cooperation with the State and with certain railroads of the State, and the route was selected so as to cross every line of railway in the State.

The instruments employed on the section from Morehead City to Paint Rock were a high-grade Buff & Berger spirit level and two Gurley single-faced nonextensible rods 10 feet in length, made from selected white pine soaked in boiling paraffin. Rapid setting of the targets was accomplished by use of a steel tape passing over drums at each end of the rods. Two rodmen were employed setting on separate steel turning-point pins. The instrument was at all times protected from the wind and sun; fore and back sights were of equal length; no sights of over 300 feet were permitted except when unavoidable. One division of level vial used equaled about 8 seconds of arc. Four steel turning pins, two for each rodman, were so used that those employed for backsights were not removed until the foresight pegs had been used. The limit of total divergence in feet was fixed at $0.42\sqrt{\text{distance from Morehead City in miles}}$. The backsights were read first on one set of pins and last on the other set.

The leveling in this State on this line was done in 1896 and 1897 by W. Carvel Hall.

Clarksville, Durham, Oxford, and Stem quadrangles.

DURHAM AND GRANVILLE COUNTIES.

Following is the North Carolina portion of the results of a spur of precise levels run in 1905 from Durham, N. C., north along the Southern Railway to Clarksville, Va. .

The method and limit of error were those now adopted by the Coast and Geodetic Survey in all precise-level work. The line was leveled independently in both the forward and backward directions, broken by temporary bench marks into sections 2 to 3 kilometers long. On all sections upon which the backward and forward measures differed more than 4.0 mm. $\sqrt{K}$ (in which K is the distance leveled between adjacent bench marks in kilometers) both the forward and backward measures were repeated until they came within limits, and all the other requirements necessary to obtain accurate results were closely adhered to.

The instruments used were two self-reading rods, 3.2 meters in length graduated to centimeters and reading by estimation to millimeters; One 1899 type Coast and Geodetic Survey precise level, and one large shade umbrella.

The party consisted of five persons—two rodmen, one umbrella man, one recorder, and R. L. Libby, level man in charge.

Chattanooga, Cleveland, and Ooltewah quadrangles.BRADLEY, HAMILTON, AND JAMES COUNTIES.

The elevations in the following list are the results of a line of precise levels run along the Southern Railway and the Western and Atlantic Railroad from Cleveland to Chattanooga. The line recovers bench marks of a line previously run in 1899 by W. W. Gilbert over the same route, and the simultaneous double-rodming method was employed on each. The adjustment made by the Coast and Geodetic Survey lowers the new line 0.008 foot at Cleveland with respect to Chattanooga. The leveling was done during 1902 by D. H. Baldwin.

The standard bench marks were left as stamped by W. W. Gilbert, with the letters "NASHVILLE" in addition to figures of elevations, which are 3 feet too high at Black Fox station and 5 feet too high west of Black Fox as far as Wauhatchie.
